ARCHAEOLOGY SCOTLAND OUT & ABOUTNo. 26 October to November 2015

If you would like an event, course or new publication to be included, please send basic details (e.g. date, title, place, organising body, very brief description, website and/or email address and/or phone number) to volunteer@archaeologyscotland.org.uk. Please do not send attachments. The next deadline is 14 November. Archaeology Scotland members who wish to be added to the mailing list, or those who would like their name removed, should email volunteer@archaeologyscotland.org.uk.

NEW and UPDATE indicate additions or changes to the previous list.

1. PROGRAMMES OF EVENTS

28 September to 3 October

DIG: UNCOVERING THE BRONZE AGE

Week long exploration of Bronze Age remains, part of 'A Window on the Hidden Bronze Age Landscape of Caithness' project. The fourth and final week of the summer school will involve exploration of key sites identified during the field survey programme. This block of fieldwork will investigate how the buried archaeology relates to the features detected by LiDAR, and how extensive prehistoric settlements really were. Training will focus on tracing and mapping the extents of prehistoric settlements through small scale excavations. Participants will gain key archaeological skills that can be transferred to future archaeological projects. Monday 28th September will be spent at Castlehill Heritage Centre, with the remainder of the week being spent in the field. Please meet at the Heritage Centre at 9am each day, unless advised otherwise. All project events are free and open to all, but you MUST register to take part in the summer school. This is partly because places are limited, but also so that we can keep participants informed about arrangements during the fieldwork. Please register by emailing charlotte.douglas@aocarchaeology.com with details of when you would like to attend the summer school. Participation in all 6 days of each week is not mandatory – please attend as and when you can! If you register but find that you are unable to attend, please email Charlotte as above so that she can allocate your place to someone else.

NEW 1 to 4 October

NEW LANARK BOOK FESTIVAL 2015

The historic setting of New Lanark will host its very own Book Festival from Thursday 1st – Sunday 4th October 2015, with a host of well-known Scottish authors, such as Alistair Moffat, James Robertson and Christopher Brookmyre, speaking at the 4-day event. There will be a rich programme of sessions on offer designed to appeal to a broad spectrum of literary tastes, the themes of which all have a link to New Lanark in some way. From Scottish Fiction and History, to Whisky, Food and Drink – there will be a session for everyone to enjoy!

2015

DIG IT! 2015

Archaeology is for everyone.

It's about you, me and all the people who've gone before us. It's about identities and a sense of belonging. It's about getting muddy – or staying laboratory clean – and having fun. It's about discovering and telling Scotland's stories.

Dig It! 2015 is a year-long celebration of Scottish archaeology, co-ordinated by the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland and Archaeology Scotland. From kids taking over museums, and people exploring the story of their own local area, to digs, festivals, competitions, hidden relics and lost worlds, there are so many ways for people to get involved. We will be exploring our past through song, art, performance and story-telling. It will be exciting, fun, grassroots and messy – just like archaeology and archaeologists.

At its heart, Dig It! 2015 will explore the theme of identities.

Identities are dynamic. They operate at different scales, from the individual and local communities to the international. They change according to circumstances, whether in the great outdoors or in urban city landscapes, at sporting events or religious occasions, with the family or among strangers. They are about belonging, difference, new and old, the individual and the collective. More than anything else, identities are forged where people, places and the past meet.

Full event details are available on the DigIt! 2015 website, along with the ability to sign up for regular updates on activities and events: <http://digit2015.com/>

NEW SAVE THE DATE FOR 20 to 23 MAY 2016

ARCHAEOLOGY SCOTLAND SUMMER SCHOOL 2016

The Summer School will be going to Stirlingshire in 2016 from 20th – 23rd of May 2016 so put the dates in your diary if you do not wish to miss out! More details will be sent out in the new year.

3. CONFERENCES

NEW 10 to 11 October 2015

HIGHLAND ARCHAEOLOGY FESTIVAL 2015 CONFERENCE

Recent Archaeological Discoveries and Research

Our annual conference aims to highlight the rich and varied historic environment of Highland. The conference enables local communities and visitors to meet the archaeologists, local groups, and individuals responsible for the wide range of research currently being undertaken. This year's conference will be held in the Highland Council Chamber, Glenurquhart Road, Inverness. It will feature a range of presentations about sites around Highland by speakers from a variety of national, academic, commercial and local organisations. Topics this year range from the more recent past such as a surprise insight into Victorian Torridon when a time capsule was uncovered at Coire Church; the scuttled remains of the Embo herring fleet; and the WWII Commando training base at Achnacarry to new glimpses of life in a medieval Highland burgh; hillforts overlooking Inverness and Glen Nevis; Pictish carved stones and beaker burials. Other talks will feature Highland woodlands, and digital presentation and the latest immersive technologies for the historic environment.

Conference places must be booked in advance. Attending the conference costs £15 per day, with a reduced price of £20 if you attend both days. The cost includes admission and tea/coffee on arrival and mid-morning. To book, please complete and return the booking form included in the brochure available at http://www.highland.gov.uk/downloads/file/15087/highland_archaeology_festival_conference_2015, along with a cheque (made payable to Rowan Tree Consulting), to arrive no later than Wednesday 7 October 2015. Copies of the booking form can also be obtained from www.highland.gov.uk/archaeology or by emailing helen@rowan-tree-consulting.co.uk

NEXT OF KIN TOUR: SCOTTISH FAMILIES AND THE GREAT WAR

1914 brought war to Scotland on what would prove to be an unprecedented scale. This exhibition reveals the profound personal stories of the separation and loss experienced by Scottish families and by communities with loved ones fighting abroad. The First World War separated millions of people worldwide from their families and homes. The impact of the conflict was felt by communities in every part of Scotland as family members fought across the fronts and news of losses were received. For the servicemen and women who experienced the conflict first-hand, keeping objects was a way of remembering this extraordinary period in their lives. Families coped with the loss of their loved ones by collecting and cherishing these souvenirs along with postcards, letters and photographs sent home and official presentations such as service medals and memorial plaques. Through a selection of these family keepsakes, this exhibition presents a portrait of Scotland at war, where the private lives of Scottish families introduce some of the themes and events of the conflict across the fighting fronts.
