SCOTLAND'S LOST GARDENS

Gardens are one of the most important elements in the cultural history of Scotland. Yet they remain fragile features of the landscape, easily changed, abandoned or destroyed, leaving little or no trace. Drawing on varied, rare and newly available archive material, including the cartography of Timothy Pont, spy maps of Holyrood drawn for Henry VIII during the 'Rough Wooing', medieval charters, renaissance poetry, the Accounts of the Lord High Treasurer, and modern aerial photography, a remarkable picture emerges of centuries of lost landscapes
